

Tardum Flumen #0 — Thursday Morning****

Tardum Flumen Welcomes You to Westercon 66!

Welcome to Westercon! If this is your first time, Westercon is the west-coast regional science fiction convention. It pulls in fans from all over the west and even from farther parts. As you might tell from the number 66, Westercon has a long history. There are many traditional elements that go back to the early days of the west and are celebrated wherever Westercon is held, every year, such as olive cultivation, leather crafts, goat roping, and robotic mixology. Well, to be honest, the robotics is new, but the fans who started Westercon would have enjoyed the science-fictional aspect. We hope you will too.

Tardum Flumen is a fully-modern Web 2.0 newszine. All content is user-generated! Nobody is paid! Check in regularly to find out what your friends are doing, and what fans like you are buying in the dealers room! Tell us about your experiences at Westercon 66. Did you find a great restaurant? Get a good snapshot of someone (with their permission)? Need to send a secret message? Attend an interesting panel? "Like" it in the zine! Or tell us what you don't like and start a flame war! (Paper zines add a whole new dimension.) Our email address is pubs@westercon66.org. There will also be a drop-box in the fanzine lounge, computers you can type on, and paper you can scribble and draw on.

What's in a name? The title is a shout-out to the interests of our wonderful guests and the rich history of our location in Sacramento. "Tardum" is the Latin root word for TARDIS which, never mind the made-up acronym, is the original very slow time machine. "Flumen" evokes the flumes that were built to carry

Free Parking

The Hilton Arden West is graciously offering free parking to Westercon members who are not staying in the hotel. (If you are staying in the hotel, you should already have free parking with your room.) Just show your Westercon badge to the front desk clerk and ask for a "6 Day Ticket". It gives you unlimited in & out privileges; perfect for secret agents on the go.

Diane Osborne

Maid Tipping

No, not that. Maid tipping is where you leave a gratuity for the housekeeper. There will be a lot of us in the hotel this weekend and the maids will be working hard. Let's give them some appreciation.
